

Hello Fellow Whoopsters!

We have been busy little bunnies here at Whoops Bunny Headquarters. We are so excited to tell you that our boutique is up and running! We can't wait to show you our launch range!

We have an amazing range of stationery available that is not only printed in the USA with vegetable based inks but our paper is certified by the Forest Stewardship Council and our posters are actually made from 100% Tree free paper!

We have also updated the look & feel of our site and have included a blog link where we will be sharing photos, whoops stories and up coming products with you!

Stay tuned for our gorgeous natural Make-Up available in 5 colors and our non-fray ribbon Hair Kits.

We also thought you'd like to know the fun story behind the Whoops Bunny brand.

bunny...bunny...bunny...bunny...whoops bunny...whoops bunny...bang...bang...bang

Once upon a time a little bunny had a 'whoops'. The bunny was jumping across the fingers on a hand and whoops...almost slipped off. The bunny and the whoops were captured forever in this rhyme and with a hop, skip and a whoops, Whoops Bunny was born.

Like that bunny, anyone, at any age, anywhere in the world, can experience a whoops! It's a part of what makes life...life! And with whoops-a-plenty under our belts, the bunnies here at Whoops Bunny HQ strive to develop products to deal with any whoops life throws at you.

When it comes to style and quality though, a whoops just won't do. To pass the 'whoops test', our products must be hip & contemporary with a sprinkling of high jinks...but always functional!

So go on...celebrate the whoops, we'll be right there with you.
